THE WORLD OF MUSIC.

Success of the Second Recital of the Beethoven Quartet Club.

OUR NEED OF A LARGE MUSIC HALL

longs to the second recital of the Beethoven Quartet Club, although it cannot here be reviewed as the writer—in common with many other music-lovers who are not gentlemen of leisure—was prevented from being personally present by the inconvenient hour chosen. It occurred on Thursday afternoon at Hamilton's Music and Art Chamber. The regular quartet—Messra Carl Retter, piane; Fred G. Toerge, violin; George

There is no element in our musical activity standing upon a higher or purer plane of art than these same chamber music recitals. No concert goer who is able to attend these Thursday matinees can afford to miss any of them.

A copyrighted cablegram from London says that Gilbert and Sullivan's new opera, "The good a piece of work. Certainly it is the best since these collaborators have brought out so good a piece of work. Certainly it is the best since the Mikado, and may even be entitled to rank with their first successes. The operetta was admirably staged, and, though it was the first night, almost perfectly presented. Perhaps in no other of the Gilbert and Sullivan series are there so many good parts, all the leading members of the company being cast in the roles they could handle best. The bonors of the evening were divided between Geraldine Ulmar, lessie Bond the two Contadines, and Courtice Pounds and Rutland Barrington, the Gondoliers, though Frank Wyatt as the Duke of Plazatero, and Denny as Don Alhambra dei Bolero, the clief

Prime Ministers and such as they Grew like asparagus in May,
And dukes were three a penny.
On every side field marshals gleamed.
Small beer were lords lieutenant decured;

A finished Gilbertian touch too is in the idea of the king's foster mother being compelled to wait 15 minutes for the inquisitor in the torture chamber and supplied with the illustrated papers, in order that time may not hang too beavy. All the dialogue in fact is as bright and sparkling as the music, and Gilbert and Sullivan have put the amusement loving world under additional obligation.

Mrs. Patti-Nicolini with her new auburn hair and her husband has come over the sea and gone to Chicago, where to-morrow evening she will help President Harrison inaugurate the big Auditorium and the next night help Henry E. Abbey to open his big Italian opera season. Tamagno, the great Italian tenor, Albani and a hest of others are to add their efforts in the latter opera troupe.

Should they came to Pittsburg it would take about a 50 scale of prices in our largest theater.

Should they came to Pitisburg it would take about a $10.0 scale of prices in our largest theater. The money would be forthcoming beyond a doubt, but many would-be auditors would have to stay at home. When are we to have that music hall, big enough to admit the great music-lowing public at reasonable prices and yet pay for the most elaborate performance? It is said that we will have to miss hearing one of Von Buelow's 20 American concerts next spring for lack of a suitable, large hall. Yet the managers should not attach too much next spring for lack of a suitable, large hali. Yet the managers should not at such too much importance to Pittsburg's deficiency in this respect. It is amply made up in other respects—so far at least as the managers need care about it. We have comparatively so few high-class musical attractions that when one does come it can draw upon a larger fund than would otherwise be the case. There is plenty of money here, and the sturdy old town is in the course of an artistic awakening that makes it were liberal toward a musical attraction with the course of an arisan awakening tos makes it wory liberal toward a musical attraction with a big enough name. The experience of late years has shown beyond peradventure that such an attraction as a Patti or a Von Buelow can fill any hall we have at any prices at all within

The Pennsylvania State Music Teachers' Association is preparing for its first annual meeting (at Philadelphia, December 26, 27 and 28), with an energy and enterprise that assure success. The roll of members from this end of the State ought to expand largely upon receiving such proof of that fact as is furnished by the following partial list of essayists and artists already bespoken:

Ready bespoken:

Essayists—Dr. Hugh A. Clarke, of the University of Pennsylvania: subject, "Harmony."

Messro, Daniel Batcheller and Henry G. Thunder; subjects, "Toulc Solfa," Mr. Charles F. Blandner; subject, "Plano." Mr. Alexander Bachman: subject, "The Organ and Ha Relation to Religious Worship." Mr. Frederic S. Law, "The Voice." Mr. Richard Zeckwer; subject, "Acoustics," with experiments.

is assured in the fact that the Mouart Club has is assured in the fact that the Mozart Club has executed a contract with Manager C. A. Ellis, for the assistance of the Boston Symphony Orchestra at the two last concerts of the club, on May 19 and 20. This means that the extraordinary pledges for this season made by the Mozart Club to its associate members will be carried out in the most satisfactory manner. According to a paragrapher in the Phila-delphia Musical Journal, "Patti, the divine singer, receives the largest wages ever paid to an artist human or divine. She is paid $3,500 every night she sings in the Albert Hall in Lendon. Even with this and the expenditure of $5,000 for each concert her managers are able to show a profit of from $2,000 to $3,000 per night. Patti has earned by her own exertions might. Fatti has earned by her own exertions more money than any five women that ever lived on the face of this earth. Her receipts since she began singing in public, 25 years ago, cannot be much short of $3,000,001, and she has several years of profitable farewelling ahead of her."

Frank Wyatt as the Duke of Plazatero, and Denny as Don Alhambra del Bolcro, the chief inquisitor, were entitled to almost equal consideration. The pilot has already been outlined in The Disparch. The music is very light and "catchy," and is certain to be in the streets before the piece is played a week. The libretto is in Gilbert's best manuer. One song describes a democratic Utopia thus:

Lord Chancellors were cheap as sprats, and Bishops in their shovel hats were plentiful as tably cats.

In point of fact too many ambassadors cropped "crank" to come forward and repeat the an-nual assertion that "Wagnerism has had its day."—Musical Courier.

MRS. SCHAABSCHMIDT under ber new name, Rosa Linde, seems to have added materially to her already high reputation in the city of her former residence by the artistic appendix she added to the Levy programme. If she had no prior casus belli with Levy & Co., she would have one in the fact that since she left they have gone on with another contraits, but with the same circulars, lithographs, programmes, etc., representing to the public that it is Mme. Rosa Linde who is still assuming that part. In nose Chio town the writer last week saw the windows adorned with the face that is so well known here, and heard music lovers discussing the merits of Rosa Linde's singing, which they supposed they had been listening to in the Levy concert there on November 26. This is a rank deception of the public and an insult to two full and Rigallon, aged 23 years.

THE Allegbeny Musical Association will make its first public appearance in a concert for the benefit of the Allegbeny General Hospital, to be given in the Fourth U. P. Church, Arch street and Montgomery avenue, on Tues-day evening of this week. Mr. W. A. Lafferty day evening of this week. Mr. W. A. Lafferty will conduct; the chorus will number about 190 voices and the orchestra about 40 players, half of them amateurs that formerly belonged to the Zitterbart Orchestra, and have been got together for the occasion by Mr. Collent. The choral numbers will be Sir Julius Benedict's short cantata "Legend of St. Cecilia" (text by Henry F. Chorley) and Schuberr's "Song of Miriam" for soprane sole and chorus. The soleists will be Mrs. L. C. Webster, Mrs. F. W. Kiefer, Mr. Beveridge Webster, Mr. John Gernert and Mr. Charles F. Cooper. Interest in the debut of the chorus so auspiciously organized a year or so ago combined with a charitable disposition toward the worthy beneficiary should combine to make this occasion more than ordinarily successful. more than ordinarily successful.

Also, the marvelous Peloubet reed-pipe organ, in action and Sarasate and D'Albert can doubtless do the same thing, if they come, as is rumored—January the 18th being named as the probable date. Nothing has been heard of their coming at Kleber's or by Mr. Gittings, where the news would be likely to come early. It is much to be hoped that the rumor will prove to be well founded. Eugene D'Albert may safely be termed the greatest musical genius now in the country, and Pablo de Sarasate is not very far behind him.

Chronic Catarrh

Cannot be cured by local applications. It is a constitutional disease and requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, working through the blood, eradicates the impurity which causes and promotes the disease, and soon effects a permanent cure. At the same time Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up the whole system, and makes you feel renewed in strength and health. He sure to get Hood's.
"I suffered severely from chronic catarrh arising from impure blood. It became very bad, causing soreness of the brouchial tube, and a troublesome cough, which gave great anxiety to my friends and myself, as two brothers died from bronchial consumption. I tried many medicines, but received no benefit.
